PUBLIC NOTICE:

The Shoshone Paiute Tribes (the Tribes) have requested assistance from the Department of Defense (DoD) to provide construction assistance under the Innovative Readiness Training Program (IRT). The construction assistance is to be provided at no cost to the Tribes and without the assistance of the DoD, the Tribes would be unable to complete these much needed projects. The requested construction assistance will be provided on the Stock Trail Road (improvement) and the extension of the National Guard Road. These projects will be implemented within the next 6 to 8 months. Any qualified organizations or private individuals interested in conducting or assisting the construction assistance, or who have questions or who wish to voice opposition to the DoD assistance on these projects may contact the Project Coordinator at (208)759-3100 no later than March 15, 2017. Persons not filing comments within the time frame noted will be considered to have waived their objections to the participation of the DoD for these projects. Services include preparing the surface for road base placement, placement of road base, culverts, fencing (placement of all relative road building materials); the Tribes will provide the materials for placement.
